

After Forever, My Pledge Of Allegiance

She kept her beauty concealed behind a curtain of suspense
And endures her fate, moulded by an ancient culture
The honour wasn't allowed to be injured
She is going to live as her community expects her to
I find myself confined between furtive desires and feelings of guilt
[The letter:]
These are my last words
I'm gonna leave you
I can't stand your narrow mindedness any longer
Forgive me...
