

After The Tragedy, Selby's Escape

In the summer every street light glows revealing all the lies All the dreams that grew inside you Shrivel in the light and die
These dreams conceive a fake flawless life
That breaks vertebrate of enduring times
And this fight demands a change of direction

[Chorus:]

Let's leave it all behind And drive 'til morning light breaks through this never-ending summer night If a perfect life is waiting tell me where to sign the line
All the dreams of perfect life will stay locked up inside your mind It's more right to reach for these dreams and fall than stand by and never try to reach them at all and my life demands a change of direction

[Chorus]