

Against All Authority, What The Fuck'd You Expect

She didn't need him, she couldn't feed him
And his father gets drunk, and then he beats them
They're livin' in a run down trailer park
He slips out at night when it gets dark

Yeah, he's just gotta get outta there
He's gotta get away and he doesn't really care
What you think, he needs another drink
'Cause tonight he's getting an arm full of ink
'Cause he got beatin' and he'll wear it on his skin
They're more of a family than home has ever been
Well, what the fuck'd you expect him to do
He had no choice and you have no clue

(What the fuck'd you expect him to do
In a world full of hate, it's nothing new
He got a feeling that he'd never have in the bottom of a spoon
Moving forward 'cause there ain't no turning back
He gotta gat from a cutler ridge car Jack
Now he's rolling down the avenue)
What the fuck'd you expect him to do

A nickel rock, a gun shot in a parking lot
Somebody dropped
Well, what the fuck'd you expect him to do
Get a job like you, when all he ever knew
Was surviving the streets of goulds
We were close when we were kids
But he's gotta be hard 'cause that's the way he lives
Now he's locked in a cage so no one has to see him
He's easy to forget society don't need him
So they had him locked away but we're the ones that pay
'Cause they're selling his image to kids every day
Now he's locked in a cage so no one has to see him
He's easy to forget, society don't need him

(What the fuck'd you expect him to do
In a world full of hate, it's nothing new
He got a feeling that he'd never have in the bottom of a spoon
Moving forward ' cause there ain't no turning back
He gotta gat from a cutler ridge car Jack
Now he's rolling down the avenue)
What the fuck'd you e xpect him to do

Hey! Well, what the fuck'd you expect
Hey! Well, what the fuck'd you expect
