

Agent Orange, In Your Dreams Tonight

if your whole life feels incomplete learn this song and sing yourself to sleep anger turns to hatred - as the nights turn into days people disappoint me in so many different ways close your eyes - drift off to sleep this song i sing is yours to keep think of me, you'll be all right - we'll be together in your dreams tonight

intensify the feel, the sound, the sight we'll be together - in your dreams tonight love belongs to no one - no one seems to care i'm convinced that i could change your mind if i was there don't be sad, it's not so bad just use your weary mind to add some color to these lives - all black and white

in living color - in your dreams tonight people try so hard - it doesn't mean a thing just think of all the happiness this little one will bring looking through your eyes i see the things you see reaching out to grab a hold of me

i promise i'll be in your dreams tonight
