

Ago, Tell Me Where You Are

Life without you is just right, can't you see?
I feel fine since you're gone, should I say disappeared?
I kept holding all my tears since I saw you for the last time
I've been through another year, I must say that I'm a strong girl
But tell me where you are, where you're sleeping at night?
Tell me who do you love, now, who do you miss, now?
Tell me what you see when you're closing your eyes?
If you ever remember when I was by your side
We could be friends though it's so hard
When two lovers fall apart
