Aimee Mann, Columbus Avenue

Storefront, streetcars rattle One more losing battle What is Columbus Avenue to you now?

Last call tattoo parlor Deathbed sword swallower What is Columbus Avenue to you now?

The place where you failed To make your story go over The place where you bailed And let the bottom drag you under Drag you under Cheap shot paranoia Exiled from Victoria What is Columbus Avenue to you now?

Where you moved with a ghastly precision To the echos of bones in the air Finding hope in an X-ray division Of a world that's not there

Cafe sinners bother you Empty pockets follow you What is Columbus Avenue to you now?
