Air Supply, When The Time Is Right

When the time is right I will come back for you To hold you through the night Just like I always do

Oh Jane, take me to your room again Why can't we learn how to love and let go One more time

Oh Jane, hold me in your ams again Don't you feel the heat of the night deep inside, Oh Jane

When the time is right And you reach out for me I'll run back to your side Just where I used to be, Oh Jane

You can take the pain away Say we'll be together once more Please open the door, Oh Jane

Oh Jane, hold me in your ams again Will we ever learn how to love Learn how to love and let go

When the time is right I will come back for you With arms to hold you tight Just like I always do

Oh Jane, take me to your room again Because I believe the heat of the night is still burning bright Deep inside

Oh Jane, hold me in your ams again Tell me if you want me to go I'll leave you alone, Oh Jane.

Oh Jane, take me to your room again Can't you feel the heat of the night is still burning bright Deep inside

Oh Jane, hold me in your ams again Why can't we learn how to love, Learn how to love and let go.
