

Akai, Beautiful

Beautiful beautiful luxury we live in
How I adore my life in this life

Every day I count my blessings
Like the stars in the endless sky

Monday is my holiday, the first day of the week away from you
Your checkbook keeps me company; I treat myself to dinner for two

Go out for drinks with the guys from work; tell 'em all about your every quirk
The sun is saying with my heart "what was it that drove us apart?"

I go home to see you crying, can't bring myself to say I'm sorry
All day I've been steps from dying, wish I didn't care enough to worry

Take my shoes the TV's waiting, the sound of your voice is irritating
I've been crying all day, I'm too tired to fight, guess I'll turn out the lights tonight

Beautiful, beautiful, beautiful (x7)
Beautiful, beautiful, beautiful, beautiful (beautiful)

Cue wicked solo

Beautiful beautiful luxury we live in
How I adore my life in this life

Every day I count my blessings
Like the stars in the endless sky
