

Akissforjersey, Cocaine

She screams bloody hallelujah
To the altar, these lungs of mine are closing in.
And in her nasty dress like her mother's,
She falls between the skin,
And the lines on her forehead.
I have found my place; face down, heading forward
And I can't sleep tonight, because
All these lights are scaring me, they're scaring me tonight
Pencil thin, walking a line about that size.
But he knows the worst to come
By the black in her eyes.
I have found my place; face down, heading forward
And I can't sleep tonight, because
All these lights are scaring me, they're scaring me tonight
All these lights are scaring me, they're scaring me tonight
All these lights are scaring me, they're scaring me tonight
But he knew what a good girl was, when he saw one.
I have found my place; face down, heading forward
And I can't sleep tonight, because
All these lights are scaring me, they're scaring me tonight
Cocaine is gonna kill baby tonight, tonight
Cocaine is gonna kill baby tonight, tonight, tonight.
