

Alabama, Old Flame

I saw you staring at each other
I saw your eyes begin to glow
An' I could tell you once were lovers
You ain't hidin' nothing that I don't know
There's an old flame burnin' in your eyes
That tears can't drown and make-up can't disguise
Now that old flame might not be stronger
But it's been burnin' longer than
Any spark I might have started in your eyes
You said it ended when he left you
You say your love for me is strong
But those old memories still upset you
For I might be a memory before too long
There's an old flame burnin' in your eyes
That tears can't drown and make-up can't disguise
Now that old flame might not be stronger
But it's been burnin' longer than
Any spark I might have started in your eyes
There's an old flame burnin' in your eyes
That tears can't drown and make-up can't disguise
Now that old flame might not be stronger
But it's been burnin' longer than
