

Alan Jackson, Long Long Way

It happens everytime I think about the reasons why I sittin here alone at night at night and not with
The heartache takes control and lets me know just what a fool I was and how you cant erase the th
And sorry just cant mend the broken heart Ive handed you, break apart is what most broken hearts
But Im a long, long way from over you, dont think Ive ever seen so many shades of blue
They say that time will heal, dont know if I ever will cause Im a long, long way from over you

[Instrumental Interlude]

Now over you just sounds like some lost city, people tell me how to find but somehow I just never o
And maybe its because I never wanted to at all of course now I see that I had the best in you
That clock just runs in circles, the days just go on by, the memories hold me closer no matter how I
Im still a long, long way from over you, dont think Ive ever seen so many shades of blue
They say that time will heal, dont know if I ever will cause Im a long, long way from over you

[Instrumental Interlude]

That clock just runs in circles, the days just go on by, the memories hold me closer no matter how I
Im still a long, long way from over you, dont think Ive ever seen so many shades of blue
They say that time will heal, dont know if I ever will cause Im a long, long way from over you

[Instrumental Interlude]

They say that time will heal, dont know if I ever will cause Im a long, long way from over you
