Alan Jackson, Once You've Had The Best

(Johnny Paycheck)

I'm so glad to have you back within these arms of mine I can finally go to sleep and get some rest Never once did I think of finding someone new 'Cause there's nothing better, once you've had the best

You're the very thing they sing about in love songs And one mistake don't mean you've failed the test As I lay beside you softly sleeping this I know, There's nothing better, once you've had the best

Within your arms, I've had the best And I think the world should know I don't care what you've said or done I'll always love you so You've got more love in your little finger, than all the rest And there's nothing better, once you've had the best

Within your arms, I've had the best And I think the world should know I don't care what you've said or done I'll always love you so You've got more love in your little finger, than all the rest And there's nothing better, once you've had the best

No there's nothing better, once you've had the best
