

Alana Davis, Got This Far

i don't think i wanted to waste your time i on't think it ever crossed my mind that you would be more to me than just a lover cause i was doing fine on my own wasn't really lonely, just alone but a least i knew where i was and what i wanted but now i dont know how you got me babe so open wide and i don't know how to tell you babe the way it feels inside i know i have afeeling you you could hold me longer we get stronger everyday and i don't know what you've done to me i'm so turned around i can barely see the way that i'm supposed to be i'm so wrapped up in what i think you think of me chorus

i don't know how we got this far how am i supposed to live a life burdened by the thought of you my love how will i ever be alright la la la la la la la la la la la

everytime i look into your eyes i can feel the pressure start to rise pulling me into you and what you show me well i believe love can conquer all but is it really love that makes you fall or just the fantasy of understanding i don't how you're gonna save the rest of my heart i don't know how i'd stop you baby or how to even start i know i have a feeling that you are something to discover the lover that you are and i don't know how you got through i'm not the kind of girl you're supposed to get to i've been hurt before i don't want it anymore i'm safer in my solitude

burdened by the thought of you my love

i don't know how you got through but just like a child i run to you and i don't know what else to say nobody soothes me the way that you do

burdened by the thought of you my love
la la la la la la la la la la la repeat (la la la) to fade
