Alarm, The

Raw

Let The River Run Its Course

The futures deserted waiting there for you and me

No past is going to stop us blowing down this road apiece

Why weve come too far, too far to turn back now

We cant just throw it all away when something good goes wrong, oh no

Nothing has been written which says which way we have to go

Im not looking for commitment written in stone

No everlasting promise no no

Let the river

Let the river run

Let the water

Let the water fall

Flow down off the mountain

Into the sea

Let the river run, run its course

Weve stood this ground too long theres miles to make up

Oh its way past the time we found out if were truly good enough

Theres no truth like the truth you dare to let yourself see

Better face it now there is nothing to fear

Everything to gain right in here

Let the river

Let the river run

Let the water

Let the water fall

Flow down off the mountain

Into the sea

Let the river run

Let the river run

Run its course

Let the river

Let the river run

Let the water

Let the water fall

Flow down off the mountain

Into the sea

Let the river run

Let the river run

Let the water fall

Let the river run

Let the water fall
