

Alessi, How Long, How Much

When I woke early this morning,
The sun was just about to rise
I'd forgotten you'd left me
You hurt me all over again
I think of how you left me
You must be stronger than
You let on to be
That you could pick up and go
And not leave a note,
No tears, no fight,
Just off in the night
How long before you let me go
How many times will I wake up
Feeling this break up over and over
How long, how much
Last time I saw you
I was kissing you good-bye
I said, I'll see you at five.
But you knew inside it was the end
I wouldn't see you again

Chorus

How long before you let me go
How many times will I wake up
Feeling our break up over and over
How long, how much

(Chorus)

How much will I need your touch
How many nights do I give
Before my heart will forgive
How long, how much
Before you let me go
How many nights do I give
Before my heart wants to live
