

Alessi, Jagged Edge

I should have seen it coming
Just like I usually do
But this time it was different
This time it was you
I could have run for cover
And made it just in time
But I was in a daydream
And you were on my mind

Chorus:

Caught up on the jagged edge
Of another broken heart
Yes, another broken heart
Caught up on the jagged edge
Struggling like a puppet to be free
Wishing it was you instead of me
How could it really happen?
How could the worst be true?
Where are all the answers?
What am I to do?

I guess it doesn't matter
Whose doing what to who
I couldn't make you happy
You wouldn't give me room

(Chorus)

Whenever you're not looking
It will sneak up and
Shatter your illusions
It comes up from behind
And twists around your mind

(Chorus)
