

Alessia Cara, Ready

i think it's safe to say taht you would always change now colours day-to-day
my friend
you are a hurricane the look on your face all the things you say send me to outer space
my friend
you test my patience

did you push me out now you got me into this mess who's gonna get me out?
why are you pulling me down if you got things to figure out?

oh you're not ready, ready for me, ready for me
oh you're not ready, ready for me, ready for me go steady your, your heavy heart until you're free until you're ready, ready for me, ready for me
until you're ready, ready for me, ready for me

you know i do I think a million thoughts but only half get through you you start a million fires just to see what they can do but then you freese up like winter season in June

I wanna climb into your mind and turn an all the lights ready all your secrets, see if you wonder about mine we just kids tryin' to understand the world you're still a only a boy you're a scared of a good girl

oh you're not ready, ready for me, ready for me
oh you're not ready, ready for me, ready for me
go steady your, your heavy heart until you're free
until you're ready, ready for me, ready for me
until you're ready, ready for me, ready for me

I won't be waiting for you to come around /2x
I won't be waiting for you but I'll be around, be around don't you push me out now

who's gonna get me out?
if you got things to figure out?

oh you're not ready, ready for me, ready for me
until you're ready, ready for me, ready for me
until you're ready, ready for me, ready for me
