

Aletheia, The Sound Of Your Grace

You are my Savior, my redeemer You are great, you reign from high above You are my shelter, you're my healer You are love, you are love My desperate heart cries out to you O God. My thirsty soul longs to drink from your stream. From living water love that quenches me. A love that leads me to believe

In You all hope is found (In You all hope is found) To You O god I raise this sound. The sound of love abounding in me (Your love abounds in me) The sound of Your grace surrounding me.

My humble heart calls out to Your great name My hungry soul longs to proclaim your fame God of grace, sustainer only you provide Giver of hope, and peace, and joy, and love, and life
