

Alex Modrzejewska, Here Go

Maybe we're moving in the wrong direction
Drifted apart somewhere along the way
It's like we're hanging on a lost connection
With nothing to say, nothing to say

So take me back to where the story started
Back to the time our love was strong enough
We swore we'd never end up broken hearted
We'd never give up, never give up

Look at us now
We're heading another waterfall
Nothing to hold on to at all
Tell me is it worth fighting the tears
Turn around, see the future we left behind
All the beautiful things in our life
How we gonna let it all disappear
Baby how did we get from there to here?

Isn't it crazy how we feel like strangers
You used to know me better than myself
Searching your eyes trying to find the answer
There's nothing to tell

Look at us now
We're heading another waterfall
Nothing to hold on to at all
Tell me is it worth fighting the tears
Turn around, see the future we left behind
All the beautiful things in our life
How we gonna let it all disappear
Baby how did we get from there to here?

Are we at the point of no return
Bound to crash and burn
Baby are we still breathing?
Please tell time is not running out
When your hope is running out [?]
Give me something to believe in

Maybe we're moving in the wrong direction
Drifted apart somewhere along the way

Look at us now
We're heading another waterfall
Nothing to hold on to at all
Tell me is it worth fighting the tears
Turn around, see the future we left behind
All the beautiful things in our life
How we gonna let it all disappear, yeah yeah

We're heading another waterfall
Nothing to hold on to at all
Tell me is it worth fighting the tears
Turn around, see the future we left behind
All the beautiful things in our life
How we gonna let it all disappear
Baby how did we get from there to here?
