

Alexz Johnson, Chicago

Give him up, let him go
Wont follow, wont let him follow
Take a breath, steal away
Let him play these games, play these game
Gain ground, wont fight
Not tonight, not turning off these lights
Cant shout, cant scream, think of me
But I cant let that be
Holding on, letting go
Why do we do this, we dont know
Stepping out, standing up
Look below, and still hanging under
Slipped away, off my feet
Cant believe how Ive been stolen lately
Since the new avenue, dont know what to do
Just gotta let it take me
On a plane, Im leaving for Chicago
Any place I go, you cant run
Leaving town, wont be depending on tomorrow
Telling stories, mine has just begun
Taking over, leaving no traces
Only smiling faces in the sun
Starting over, tying up my laces
But the damage is done
Ride a wave, the new rave
Better loosen now, its losing me
Caught between being me or tragedy, tragedy
Riding high, cloud nine
Wont let me through them gates no more
Found a place to escape, another door
Leaving another girls soul
I wont be fine, about time
Need someone to hold back my hands
Let me loose, let me fall
Theyll understand, understand
Hurt him once, maybe twice
Theyll find you in a ditch somewhere
Spreading wings, little things
Im keeping you away from me
On a plane, Im leaving for Chicago
Any place I go, you cant run
Leaving town, wont be depending on tomorrow
Telling stories, mine has just begun
Taking over, leaving no traces
Only smiling faces in the sun
Starting over, tying up my laces
But the damage is done
Shutting you out, shutting you out
The damage is done
Shutting you out, shutting you out
Im shutting you out
Im gonna leave you behind one step at a time
Im gonna do it cause I said it so
Im gonna make it cause I said so
Shutting you out
Im shutting you out, Im shutting you out
Im shutting you out, Im shutting you out
Im gonna shut him
On a plane, Im leaving for Chicago
Any place I go, you cant run
Leaving town, wont be depending on tomorrow
Telling stories, mine has just begun
Taking over, leaving no traces
Only smiling faces in the sun

Starting over, tying up my laces
But the damage is done
The damage is done, the damage is done
The damage is done, the damage is done
The damage is done, the damage is done
But the damage is done
(background vocals chanting here)
I dont wanna wait, I dont wanna be waiting no more
I dont wanna wait no more, Walking out the door
I dont wanna wait, I dont wanna be waiting no more
I dont wanna wait no more
