

Alfie, Halfway Home

Don't stop me from breathing,
I burn like an open wound,
Just waiting to heal.
I'm halfway home,
I won't stop believing.
On my own,
Cos I still see the world from here.

Is this like believing?
It seems miracles are everyday
Now you've come along,
And tomorrow I'm just leaving you,
Only time can drag me back.

The rain stopped me from leaving.
If you've got an alibi, then journey through the world.
I'm held down here, but I'll break through the ceiling.

Does this strike a reason in you?
It seems miracles are everyday
Now you've come along,
And tomorrow I'm just leaving you,
Only time can drag me back.

Your beauty only turns me back, cos I belong.
Still see the world from here.
It seems miracles are everyday
Now you've come along,
And tomorrow I'm just leaving you,
Only time can drag me back.
