Stardust from above falls to the Abyss
As the curtain raises on a dark Grand Guignol
Thanatos and Eros take each other's hand and dance
A carnival of desires
Everyone sees unthinkable dreams alone in their hearts

Now in a deserted golden tower in a playground
I search for sweet memories in the eye socket of a skull
When I pick up the rusty dagger and raise it over my chest
My red blood boils with the pain of living

A brilliant Paradise is a dictator's garden
Time of 1001 nights in the dark capital

In this grotesque city, while asleep you are a queen
A virgin sacrifice
Your pure soul rises on transparent wings to meet the dawn

A sin of death dressed up on a melodious stage
To act is wrong, there is no lively applause
The rose-colored warmth of your prostrate form fills this void
A kiss as an offering, the scent of flowers

An illusionary full moon; a cruel sun
The never-ending lunar eclipse of the Grand Guignol
The Devil and his angels hold hands and dance
An awakening Masquerade
Then everyone shivers in solitude as they remember their fears

A brilliant Paradise is a dictator's garden
Time of 1001 nights in the dark capital
In this grotesque city, while asleep you are a queen
Beautiful smile, wash away my sin

Stardust from above falls to the Abyss
As the curtain falls on a gloomy Grand Guignol
Thanatos and Eros embrace and finish their dance
An intoxicating Nirvana
The people call out for the words of God to bring light to the world
