</lyrics> Peep me with a chemical scoop until the coming of dawn There are no taboos between us so you may love me anatomically to your heart's desire

The whole city is a one huge test site As soon as you become useless you're promptly erased so live passionately now while you can

We're struggling in this cellar garden of Eden where happiness is nothing but a mirage

Eve of the Future
The android without tears born of the bones of Mephistopheres; the goddess of corruption Ah, your apple
let me taste it, let me bite it let me savour the flavor of sin

Inside the brains of metal lies a dazzling feeling of ecstasy It's the memory of the maidens, in the form of angels who perished at the hands of Death

Nobody can change the fate that's been decided In those days of slavery under the heel of a heartless god there is no such thing as true freedom

The only thing I can believe in is the smiling body lying down here

Eve of Ideals
the thing that the scientists poured all their skill into: an electronic device that manipulates love the courtesan of repose Ah, the snake of temptation Touch it, stab it and let me seek the depths of darkness

Whenever you look at me with your eyes the pulse starts to ring inside my ruby heart

I am Eve, an android who was raised among the delusions of the megalopolis but who still knows no impurity so please hold me gently

Eve of the Future,
born of the bones of Mephistopheres, the android who know tears is a woman in love!
Ah, your apple
let me taste it, let me bite it let me understand more of the meaning of life
