Vestiges of you
Are fastening themselves to me, right now
In this vast world
There's only one person
Who brought me happiness
Those days
Aren't here anymore
A blue bird
Flew out of its case
If love can capture me
Then I'll immediately run away
Into the sky, a place that is more free
It's alright, go ahead
Pass through it

Your gentle look
Once poured down
Onto my body
In the sunlight, that seems so dazzling
Just the two of us
I close my eyes
Even though you've already lived your life
Oh blue bird, it escaped out the window
And flew away
To the end of the world
To the end of the world
Eternally
