Fall in love maiden, let the sakura flowers bloom
Only to be alone, I am born
You come across the love of Zipang
I drink up the golden night's sake
I am ready

The shortness of a flower's life
And the moment of those days burn
Wearing the crimson and rising,
I turn beautiful

"Everyone tells lies,"
Says the boy
But I have waited
And the storm passes and takes me away
To the land of spring

Fall in love maiden, let the sakura flowers bloom
Only to be alone, I am born
You come across the love of Zipang
I drink up the golden night's sake
I am ready

How empty the life of love is,
And the sadness covers this sad world
But living profoundly and elegantly
Is a victory

When the sky and earth
Are replaced,
I will hold onto you
Returning breath to my body and heart
As spring is burning

Fall in love maiden, like a sakura flower
But to be in that one night, I flutter down
The love of Zipang, all of the gods
Rain in the golden dream and are intoxicated
I am captured

Fall in love maiden, let the sakura flowers bloom
Only to be alone, I am born
Fall in love maiden, like a sakura flower
Only to be in that one night, I flutter down
