

Alice Cooper, Last Man on Earth

I don't know why my whole world came crashing down
I just woke up in lonely town
I opened up my eyes and much to my surprise
Look at this heaven that I found
Don't need to care about tomorrow
I got no pain, I got no sorrow
I'm the last man on earth, so tell me what it's worth
Am I a beggar or a king?
Got no trouble, got no time - eternity is mine
I got a whole lot of everything
I could take this town and just burn it to the ground
Smash every window that I see
I can smoke, I can drink, I can swear and I can stink
There ain't no one to bother me (no, no)
Don't need to care about tomorrow
I got no pain, I got no sorrow
I'm the last man on earth, so tell me what it's worth
Am I a beggar or a king?
Got no trouble, got no time - eternity is mine
I got a whole lot of everything
It's all mine
There's not a single soul to talk to me
But that's OK I never liked them
I'm the last man on earth and I know what it's worth
I'm not a beggar I'm a king
Got no troubles, got no time - and everything is fine
'Cause I'm the king of everything
It's all mine
Mine, mine, mine, mine, mine, mine (applause)
