

Alice Peacock, Love Remains

Don't be afraid
Death is but a horizon
That the mind can't explain
It's just beyond our reason
Like the sun from the sky
Like the tears that I can't cry
Even time and beauty fade
Everything just falls away
But only love remains
It's not the end
It's only the beginning
I can tell you, my friend
You will go on living

In my heart, in my head
I'll keep all the things you said
Nice and safe, locked away
You will always have a place
And I know love remains
Yeah, love remains
Don't be afraid
Death is but a horizon
That the mind can't explain
And only love remains
