

Alien Ant Farm, Stranded

Your waves come crashing down
Like a semi-auto trailer
I dive so deep in the sea
To avoid killer whales
A perfect moment here and gone
It has sailed
I use a hammerhead to drive
Rusty nail inside
I feeling the sea beneath you, beneath me
I feeling the sea beneath you, beneath me
Imagine if our world was blue and weightless
I never meant to do wrong to you
Youe my starfish
You moan a tone so low beyond me
A telepathic sub-sonic frequency
I need a little air for emergency
You have to understand this urgency
I feeling the sea beneath me, beneath you
White sand beneath my feet
No brain between my ears
I feeling the sea beneath you, beneath me
I know that if I had one
I spare us both these years
I feeling the sea beneath me, beneath you
White sand beneath my feet
No brain between my ears
I feeling the sea beneath you, beneath me
I know that if I had one
I spare us both these years
A sea anemone, youe my enemy
