

Alison Krauss & Union Station, My Poor Old Heart

Don't expect too much from my poor old heart
You can blame the unforgiving for my scars
You might just be the best that I can find
But I can't seem to forget the tears I've cried
I don't know that I will ever trust again
It's a price that I must pay for all my sins
Time has changed me and left me full of doubt
And my heart may be lost, never to be found
Once upon a time I did believe
In my true love that swept me off my feet
Then the wind of change, swept in the rain
And left me drowning, in my pain
I don't know that I will ever love again
It's a price that I must pay for all my sins
Time has changed me and left me full of doubt
And my heart may be lost, never to be found
I don't know that I will ever love again
It's a price that I must pay for all my sins
Time has changed me and left me full of doubt
I don't know that I will ever trust again
It's a price that I must pay for all my sins
Time has changed me, and left me full of doubt
And my heart may be lost, never to be found
