

Alison Krauss & Union Station, So Long So Wrong

Alison Krauss & Union Station

Miscellaneous

So Long So Wrong

I know I'll be lonesome

That brings about a little fear

I know I'll be sad and I'll be blue

I have given the best of me

When I forgot to say to you

What you forgot to say to me

So long, so wrong

I have tried and cared, baby, it was never enough

In your mind I never had a clue

So I'll repave the same old road I'm on

Where I forgot to say to you

What you forgot to say to me

So long, so wrong

Did we take forever in vain

Into the past

Did we think forever was really gonna last

You have tired me with your wanting ways

You can't buy yourself to be complete

I have given up caring anymore

Once you were big in a world that's small

And now you're all alone

Have we taken forever in vain

Into the past

Did we think forever was really gonna last