

Alison Krauss & Union Station, Teardrops Will Kiss

Alison Krauss & Union Station

Miscellaneous

Teardrops Will Kiss The Morning Dew

When time was young we walked the roads together

When love was sweet I meant the world to you

Now comes the sun we'll say goodbye forever

And teardrops will kiss the morning dew

Take me and make me your lover one more time

Close in your arms as before

'Til o'er your shoulder the early morning shines

Then I'll leave you and grieve you no more

When time was young we walked the roads together

When love was sweet I meant the world to you

Now comes the sun we'll say goodbye forever

And teardrops will kiss the morning dew

Daisies need sunshine and roses need rain

So it was all meant to be

A wild bird needs wings, free to take to the wind

And so it was meant for you and me

When time was young we walked the roads together

When love was sweet I meant the world to you

Now comes the sun we'll say goodbye forever

And teardrops will kiss the morning dew

Teardrops will kiss the morning dew