Alkaline Trio, I Found Away

Stumbling through the dark with a broken heart, all alone at it once again Seeping in like a feeling you haven't felt since way back when In the dead of that night, like the summer of Sam I caught word of the commotion you caused via telegram And got all worked up, we got all worked up I found away Over the fear and through the flames, I'm diving in Don't follow me, stay right here I'll be back for you someday I found away, it'd be best if you just stayed It's not safe, don't follow me I found away, I found away Frozen in the lights of a locomotive, tied to the tracks again You said you haven't felt this comatose since you can't remember when You fly off the handle every time we sleep, straight off the deep From the top of my lungs the truth shall be sung, sharp and damning Violently stabbing at secrecy That look on your face, it's more than I can take it's scaring The living hell straight out of me
