

Alkaline Trio, Into The Night

We'll never know which way this road is gonna turn
Can't be sure how quick your wick is gonna burn
So sing to me your darkest secrets
Time to leave behind your regrets
Before we get lost in the blink of an eye
This carrion has been forgotten
Left for dead in the sun rotting
The answer lies here in this tragedy
That ends with you and me
When we're dragged from the light
Into the night
We have been warned which way the storm is gonna blow
But where the rip-tide takes us to we'll never know
Now you're screaming out for Jesus
Or for anyone please save us before we get lost
In the blink of an eye
The answer lies here in the mystery
That starts with you and me
When we're dragged from the light
Into the night
