Almadrava, Waves

Behind the moon youll find the sun. Down at the beach there is not anyone. The water so blue, and the way I feel too, and nothing matters anymore but you. They slightly dissapear, the stars. Venus not there and neither Mars. I ask for the truth, and you answer me shhh A nice way to say it, so smooth! Waves on the sea, theyre talking to me, theyre telling me about how it feels to be free, so free... Waves on the sea, theyre talking to me, theyre telling me about how it feels to be free, so free... And the wind blows away the sand, (like an hourglass) falling from my hand. Another minute lost in peace, I close my eyes and I can feel your breeze Beeing on this beach, I am out of reach, I cannot listen to his lies, when Im here. There is a couple on the run. A solitary man, looks like hes having fun. I dont have to fear, when freedom is near, again you give me all the strenghs I need to live. Waves on the sea