

ALO, Empty Vessel (A Pledge Of No Allegiance)

Feel like I'm trapped and I can't get out
Heart full of pain, head full of doubt
And when I think about it, it just gets worse
The more it hurts the more I know
I've got to see her again

Stuck like a magnet to the freezer door
Face to the sun but my back gets so cold
And when I think about it, it just gets worse
The more it hurts the more I know
I've got to see her again

I'm an incomplete empty vessel
Waiting for the one to fill me up
Waiting for the day to hear you say I Love You
But you won't so I'm gonna leave
I do believe I've had enough

Told myself it's all in my mind
Told myself she's not my kind
But when I think about her it just gets worse
The more it hurts the more I know
This heart of mine will never mend

What if she knocked upon my door?
I wonder if I would be strong enough to ignore
That everything about us comes out cursed
The more it hurts the more I know
I've got to see her again

I'm an incomplete empty vessel
Waiting for the one to fill me up
Waiting for the day to hear you say I Love You
But you won't so I'm gonna leave
I do believe I've had enough

I feel the pressure comin' on
To the left of right a line has been drawn
But when it comes to my lady, my lady comes first
It always hurts, I'm gonna leave
I do believe I've had enough
I'm gonna leave I do believe I've had enough
I'm gonna leave I do believe I've had enough
