

Alpha, Lipstick From The Asylum

When i can't look
The other way
Theres only you
To wonder

And on hard times
A doorway leans on days
As though im needing you
And some have helped me become older
I suggest youre using me
After moving on

I'm really sorry lost time won't wait
You always took so long
I'm leaving now

All your praising me
Turned tides all over mine
Are you erasing me
Lipstick from the asylum goes on
Something that has stolen us
Always some
Something that has stolen us
Always some

I put it on you and me and now
I hate it all you and me

I put it on you and me and now
I hate it all you and me

I put it on you and me and now
I hate it all you and me

I put it on you and me and now
I hate it all you and me
