Because Of You

Oh, i want to know i want to go

Through that situation again, i'd like to catch

That something in your eyes it thrilled me once again

That gentle touch i can't describe

It's like a reflection of the moon on the water

Don't let it go, because of you the earth stood still

Just do it again

Burn, burn away, sacred letters, ragged backdrops

I don't care, the certainty of death,

The boring rituals of life they seem so far

I don't care for my life, i just live for your love

That is because of what you do, just do it again

Because of you the earth stood still

Just do it again
