

Alphaville, Bitch

(Lyrics: Gold / Music: Gold-Bloss)

You're living your way, I live mine
I may be down and you are oh so high
But in a while I'll sip your wine
Then call me bitch until you die
Life's a bitch and then you die
Your guardian angels crashed all from the sky
There's nothing left, you can't deny
Life's a bitch and then you die
You think you're free
But there ain't no reason why
You're just a fool chasing shadows all the time
There's no escape, no matter how you try
And after all you can't deny, life's a bitch...
Hey little girl, sweet thirteen
What are you doin' on this nightlife scene
Hey sugar daddy, you ain't doin' right
Eat up your money and get out of sight
Life's a bitch and then you die
Your guardian angels crashed all from the sky
You're all alone, I see you stumble
The spiders get you when the wall will crumble
The wall will crumble.
