

AM, Gone Away

I sit around
Nothing's the same
I'm looking for answers
But I'm already late
You say you need me
One more night
Then you're packing your bags
Saying it's alright
I don't know why
I wait and I wait
I'm looking for something
But you're not gonna change
Turn around and I see the hope fading
Now you've gone away
Keep on moving like you're so unaware
You're looking for answers but you're already there
You see the road but you don't the way
You're coming around and then you're pulling away
I don't know why I wait and I wait
I'm looking for something but you're not gonna change
Turn around and I see the hope fading
Now you've gone away
