It must be wonderful to think know it all. It must be beautiful to really believe in you. But I am constantly waiting. I'm looking for your soul. I am constantly praying. I've come looking for you, looking for you. Blind man you do what you can. You do what you can to be superman. Blind man I'll do what I can. I'll do what I can to make you believe. You must be thrilled to bits the happy hypocrite and when you're out of it the whole world is with you too.
