

Ambuscade Undeclinable, Cheap Success

We light a candle at your funeral but hell we're not sad
This major opportunity is the best we've ever had
We'll never come this close again, our own cheap abuse
This sacrifice you've made for us makes up for what we lose

We exploit the death of a good friend
Let evil make some money for our band
Can someone please kill my best friend?

Do you still have your virginity?
We're waiting for bad news to come to us and make us rich
Completed with an overdose, a perfect way to go
Our sales go up 'cause you are more worth more dead than you're alive

We exploit the death of a good friend
Let evil make some money for our band
Can someone please kill my girlfriend?

'Cause in a world where there's laughter about others' disaster
It can be wrong to use and survive
Inappropriate cheap success

We exploit the death of a good friend
Let evil make some money for our band
Can someone please rape my dead friend and tell me all about it?
