

American Classic, As Mine (Just One More Hour)

The lights in this room
They're too dark for me
Even tho they're all turned on
And I just wanna scream
But I'm afraid that everyone will see
The weakness in me
You will have to be strong
That's what you said
But something tells me
I won't get through this
Cause you were always there
When I needed someone
You always knew just what to say
When I thought that i couldn't move on
And now I can barley hold your freezing hand
And it's killing me to be here
I can hardly stand
Is it asking too much for one more chance to hold you?
I don't think so no
I don't think so
Just one more hour alone to love you as mine
As mine
Now how open can i be?
As i try to cast away
These terrified new feelings I've been trying to hide all day
I know its a fate we all have to face
But nothing could prepare for this, when
All I want is to take back every wasted moment
Is it asking too much for one more chance to hold you?
I don't think so no
I don't think so
Just one more hour alone to love you as mine
As mine
You were the only one that i could run to
Now you're no longer here with me
You were the only one that i could run to
Now you're no longer here with me
Is it asking too much for one more chance to hold you?
I don't think so no
I don't think so
Just one more hour alone to love you as mine
As mine
All I want back is every wasted moment
