The Dream Is Gone
Now your sleep is over
You can't remember
Why you spent the whole night proving
What you'll be losing

The dream is gone
Do you want another one

Time to join the chorus line
Sing into the safe design
You don't want more than this
You don't want more than this

Time to take the easy way out
Alone not a hope or a doubt
Finish the dream that brought you so much bliss
Sails filled with wind and the joy deep within Finish with the light that holds the . . .
You don't need it anymore
