

American Pearl, Bleed

I believe the sun will rise one day
And we'll come alive and reach for something real
I can feel the sun through darkest sky
But all the faith inside won't take away this fear
And I'll be stronger than before
'cause they can't bleed me anymore
I believed the tired man when he said that
"nothing here weighs heavier than regret"
He must've known someone just like me

Now I've fallen down but don't give up on me yet
'cause I'll be stronger than before
And they can't bleed me anymore
I believe in a monday morning dream
Of a rising star and a celebration of freedom
"i believe the sun will rise" some say
With an independence day for every season
And I'll be stronger than before
'cause they can't bleed me anymore
