

American Steel, New Religion Every Day

i've found a new religion every morn a new mantra it's not that now i don't believe everything i'm told or read overheard and over said i'm just not listening

try to change the weather like time magazine
did you read?
chairman mao is a robber baron now rolling over in his grave

every day (every day)
every day

i've got a new image got a new outlook and it's decidedly sexy but then again i can't be satisfied and broken hearts are counterrevolutionary are feeling cooped up like allende?

see i ain't gonna pull my hair out anymore for a new cold war

yeah yeah
yeah yeah
