

Amos Lee, Southern girl

Farewell my sweet
Well the time that was coming
The road has begun to move beneath my feet
Good things come to an end
Well I hope through the pain
The heartache and strain we can still remain friends
Something about a southern girl
Make me feel right
In a Mississippi morning
Shes an angel in flight
In a blink of an eye
Shell be out of your sight
Something about a southern girl
Youre a soft melody
Well I swear that I heard
From a lost mockingbird stuck up in a tree
We got a lot going on
Even though Im not here
Please dont shed any tears for me day when Im gone
Something about a southern girl
Make me feel right
In a Mississippi morning
Shes an angel in flight
In a blink of an eye
Shell be out of your sight
Something about a southern girl
I never meant to leave you lonely
It was only in your mind
Girl, I never meant to leave you lonely
It was only a matter of time
Something about a southern girl
Make me feel right
In a Mississippi morning
Shes an angel in flight
In a blink of an eye
Shell be out of your sight
Something about a southern
Something about a southern girl
