

Amy Grant, The Power

(Judson Spence, Tommy Simms)

A king is crying from his throne
He had a queen but now she's gone
What is this magic that we seek
The mighty strong turn mighty weak
Every good girl hears it
Every bad boy fears it
No matter what I see
I believe, I believe

[Chorus:]

The power touches me
The power helps us see
The power holds my hand
The power drives me crazy

A flower grows, an old man dies
And through it all we still survive
A poor man screams but no one hears
Ain't nothing changed much through the years
Every bad day needs it
Every good day breeds it
No matter how it feels
When it's real you know it's real
Stronger than any bomb any man has ever made

[Chorus]

And it won't take long to understand
Just how amazed I am

Open up your eyes and see
It won't take long to understand
Just how amazed I am

Every good day needs it
Every bad day needs it
No matter what I see
I believe, I believe
Stronger than any bomb any man has ever made

[Chorus]

If I believe and you believe
And we believe everything is gonna be all right
It just might
