

Amy Macdonald, This Time's Everything

well, I am way in over my head but I am trying to make the most of it never on time
never in line
nothing seems to fit

but still I got this far
I used my head
I used my heart
I don't know where to turn but I'll get there if I run

hey!
here I go again
trying to make the most of everything
hey!
this time's different
This Time's Everything

take it one step at a time slowly make the most of it it's all new and it's all crazy
feeling life go through these changes

but still I got this far
I used my heart

hey!
hey!
