"Translation"

&lt;/lyrics&gt;

The sleepy bright lullabye The sermon I've always listened to The charm full of rattling

The unwilling careless life The horizon that I always stare at The gibberish we say while not knowing where we're headed

Instead of getting swallowed by the wave Let's go against the wave
Bite your lip And Now In this moment

More than trying to fix myself More than trying to be cool
Having it as it is, is important Let's walk facing the sky
Isn't it alright to just live everyday like the happiness I drew in my dreams
Because what I wished for is freedom
More than you try to fix yourself More than you try to be cool
Having it as it is, is important Let's walk facing the sky

Very strange, dirty big sister How many people have you had experience with?
I've done about 94 people

Very strange, dirty big brother How many evils have you experienced?
I can't remember about how many without you

Instead of getting swallowed by the wave Let's go against the wave
Bite your lip And Now In this moment

More than you trying to fix yourself More than you trying to be cool
Having it as it is, is important Let's walk facing the sky
Isn't it alright to just live everyday like the happiness I drew in my dreams
Because what I wished for is freedom

&quot;To where the star called freedom is!!&quot;

Isn't it okay for me to say selfish things? After all I'm still a kid.

Whats is essential in this ruined world is everything
Since each person is holding their own part of it
Whats is essential in this ruined world is everything
Since each person is holding their own part of it

I've always done what I wanted and just sing

La La La.....(Everyone, let's sing the end together!!)
