Glitter venus beautifully Glitter venus goldenly

The one who lights up my heart is you, the girl with the best smile

Being jealous of that pretty girl If only I could be reborn into a girl like her

With the mistaken idea that life may have been a little different

There also can't be two of the same people I am only charmed by one and only smile in the world

Shine venus innocently Shine venus proudly

Brighten up this world with just your light

Glitter venus beautifully Glitter venus goldenly

The one who lights up my heart is you, the girl with the best smile

Doing your nails along with your gaudy make-up Even if you feel that you've become a popular girl

You worry that something is wrong You also don't want to lie, right?

If I can't love my plain self Theres no way I can love someone else

Flourish venus pure heartedly The flickering venus is romance

I'll fall in love with you whom I love

Don't look at me with that gaze of your sparkling moist eyes

The one who burns my heart is you, the girl with the best smile

I want to say to just you, who was not afraid of laughing

And held your courage "You did your best didn't you"

Shine venus innocently Shine venus proudly

Brighten up this world with just your light

Glitter venus beautifully Glitter venus goldenly

The one who lights up my heart is you, the girl with the best smile

You are my sun
